Liberia National Police keen on seeing clearly

GoodVision USA, together with our Liberian partner, Refuge Place International (RPI), provided free eye testing and screening to all members of the Liberia National Police in the capital city of Monrovia. This was a first for the national police force and was made possible because GoodVision Technicians and RPI staff were able to bring all of the necessary equipment to police headquarters. Providing on-site services allowed officers and supporting personnel to fit appointments into their busy schedules.

Almost 300 police officers were screened during the 7-day outreach event. More than 100 pairs of affordable eyeglasses were sold. Members of the force were very pleased with the customized strength of the lenses and the great fitting and stylish metal frames. The durability of the glasses was a critical feature for many, due to the nature of their work.

GoodVision Technicians provided screening for members of the Liberia National Police.

By bringing vision care to the essential workers of Liberia, GoodVision USA is able to help keep the country safe and secure.

FEATURING

Miracle Olatunji

You are probably familiar with our inspirational GoodVision volunteer Miracle Olatunji from her motivating blog posts, which you can read on our website. She recently shared a greeting and her thoughts on the coming year on her LinkedIn page; you can read her full comments there. We congratulate Miracle on her graduation, and hope she will continue to motivate and inspire us.

"This year is going to be a big one with graduation from Northeastern University in December and many more exciting personal and professional experiences ahead. As I reflect on the past few years, I am beaming with joy and gratitude for all the memories made, relationships formed, lessons learned, experiences, personal growth, and so much more. I'm proud of the person that I'm becoming. I will continue to lift and uplift others as I climb."

A heartfelt thank you to our treasurer

We say good bye this month to GoodVisionUSA's treasurer, Jack Peacock. Jack joined the board in 2019, soon after it was formed, and has kept a steady hand on our finances ever since. He brought valuable experience to the organization, including many years working in tax law and as a systems specialist. He is committed to assistive technology and advocacy work for differently-abled persons. Thank you, Jack. We will miss you!

Jack's departure leaves an opening on our Board of Directors. If you have relevant skills and are interested in putting them to work for a good cause, please write to us, mail@goodvision.org.
